

Information Privacy Guide

Introduction

The Information Privacy Act 2009 (IP Act) provides for the fair collection and handling of personal information by all Queensland Government agencies. These obligations are set out in Chapter 2 and the Information Privacy Principles (IPPs) in Schedule 3 of that Act

The IP Act also provides individuals with a right of access to and amendment of personal information in the government's possession and control unless, on balance, it is contrary to the public interest.

Personal information is defined in the IP Act as:

'information or an opinion, including information or opinion forming part of a database, whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent, or can be reasonably ascertained, from the information or opinion'

Essentially, personal information is any information about an identifiable person.

Purpose of this guide

In accordance with our requirements under Information Privacy Principle 5 (IPP5), this guide provides general information on:

- the type of personal information contained in documents held by the department,
- the main purposes for which this information is used and
- how you can access your personal information held in departmental documents.

This Guide also provides information on what to do if you have concerns about the department's handling of your personal information.

Our key responsibilities

The department's vision is for an efficient, innovative, resilient and profitable agriculture, fisheries and forestry sector that thrives for the long-term.

Our work spans across the agriculture, fisheries and forestry industries and includes provision of agricultural research, development and extension for the management of biological, animal welfare and product integrity risks.

We are structured to deliver our objectives through four service areas:

- Agriculture, including Agri-Science Queensland and Rural Economic Development
- Biosecurity Queensland
- Corporate
- Fisheries and Forestry

Our commitment to the responsible management of personal information

We are committed to ensuring that all personal information is managed in accordance with the privacy principles. In doing so, we will make certain:

- the personal information of our clients and employees will be responsibly and transparently collected, managed, used and disclosed in accordance with the eleven Information Privacy Principles
- personal information will be disclosed to other entities (including agencies, other

- levels of government or the private sector) responsibly and transparently
- information will only be transferred outside of Australia in accordance with section 33 of the IP Act.
- all reasonable steps will be taken to bind contracted service providers to the IPPs if they are dealing in any way with personal information on our behalf.
- privacy breaches and complaints will be dealt with in a timely and responsive manner and complainants will be treated with respect throughout the process.
- we will comply with the conditions of any public interest approvals issued by the Information Commissioner under section 157 of the IP Act.

The type of personal information contained in our documents

In delivering its business, the department collects a vast amount of customer and employee personal information.

Personal information dealt with under the Business and Corporate Partnership

The department participates in a business and corporate partnership (B&CP) service delivery model with three other Queensland Government departments.

A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) is in place regarding the transfer of personal information between the departments for the provision of specified business and corporate services.

How you can access or request amendment of your personal information

The right of access to and amendment of personal information is dealt with under IPPs 6 and 7 of the IP Act.

Access to documents containing personal information

IPP 6 provides that a person is entitled to access any record that contains their personal information, except where access is restricted by any law. This includes the provisions in Chapters 3 of both the Right to Information Act 2009 (RTI) and the IP Act.

The department endeavours to provide access to personal information informally, without requiring a person to make an application under the RTI or IP Acts.

However, in some situations informal access will not be appropriate, and you may need to make an application under the RTI or IP Act. (For example, if a third party's privacy is also involved).

Amendment of documents containing personal information

IPP 7 provides that a person is entitled to seek an amendment of any record that contains their personal information that is inaccurate, incomplete, out of date or misleading.

Applications can only be made by a person seeking amendment of their own personal information, or of a deceased person to whom they are next of kin.

Applications for access to or amendment of personal information

Requests for documents or amendment of personal information under the RTI or IP Acts must be made on the prescribed statutory forms, copies of which are available at www.rti.qld.gov.au.

Prior to lodging an access or amendment application for information held by this department, please contact RTI Services for advice:

Email: rtiservices@des.qld.gov.au

How you can complain about our handling of your personal information

A privacy complaint is a complaint made by an individual about an act or practice of a department in relation to that individual's personal information.

Privacy complaints should be made no longer than twelve months from the date when the act or practice the complaint is about occurred.

If you wish to lodge a privacy complaint, please:

- submit your complaint in writing
- state an address which we can use to contact you, and
- include details about the actions or practice you are complaining about

Mark your complaint as Private and Confidential, and address it to:

The Privacy Officer
Business and Information Services
Department of Agriculture and Fisheries
GPO Box 2454
Brisbane Qld 4001
Email: privacy@daf.qld.gov.au

The department will endeavour to respond to your concerns within 45 business days from the date your complaint is received.

However, in some circumstances, a longer period may be required in order to finalise your complaint. If so, you will be contacted with a view to arranging an extension of time.

On completion, you will be advised in writing of the department's decision, including any remedies that are considered appropriate to resolve the complaint.

What happens if you are not happy with the department's response to your complaint?

If you have made a complaint to the department under the IP Act and you are not satisfied with the response you receive, you can refer your privacy complaint to the Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC)

However, note that your complaint can only be made to the OIC after 45 business days has lapsed from the date the complaint was received by the department.

Refer to the OIC's website for further information:
