Code D_20201029_RYellow18F_Yid-Eli_Growling snarling
Two people walking north were approached by RYellow18F. A vehicle drove between the walkers and the dingo.
Code E_20201231_RYellow18F_Yid-Eli_Lunging (attempting to nip or bite)
3x adult female visitors walked from Maheno Cottages to beachfront and noticed a yellow tagged female dingo (RYellow18F) behind them. They stopped moving and stood close together, after a short time and the dingo approached one of the ladies to within 1m and opened her mouth as if to bite the back of the woman's leg. The ladies started to scream at the dingo and wave the sticks they were carrying and the dingo stopped and moved away. The ladies called for assistance and made their way back to the accommodation. The woman reporting the interaction mentioned that the same dingo had been hanging around the cottages once or twice a day for their seven day stay. The woman reporting had spent a substantial amount of time a postal worked so had a good understanding of domestic dog behaviour so was confident in her assessment of the likelihood of the dingo attempting to nip/bite.

An island regular gave QPWS NRM ranger an image they obtained and reported Yellow tagged female loitering and approaching vehicles and food prep areas at Eli Creek for a period of time. One of their party was taking footage of vehicles crossing Eli Creek, crouched down and facing south. RYellow18F approached the man then veered off. The man continued photographing and the wongari changed direction and moved in behind him. The observer moved his vehicle towards the scene as he saw the dingo change direction. The photographer stayed still and crouched. He did not feel any nip or bite. The dingo left and continued on. The reporting visitor was waiting for the image below to be sent before contacting QPWS.

Code D_20210412_RYellow18F_Eli DUA_Inappropriate human behaviour (involving non-aggressive contact)

Ranger noticed dingo walking in and around people and vehicles. Spoke to a group of two families and they earlier on someone was patting the tagged dingo, I asked if they got photos or wrote down what kind of vehicle the offender came to the creek in, they said no they didn't.

Management Actions implemented as a result of interactions:

1. Rangers with BAC staff are patrolling to ensure visitor compliance with fish cleaning restrictions and safety.
2. Dangerous dingo signs are installed at the entry points to Eli creek and the Maheno area.
3. CTO groups briefed on the increased risk as a result of this animal.
4. Increased ranger patrols, education in the area continue as required based on visitor activity and dingo behaviour.
5. Beach Camp Zones 4 (Guluri & Eli) and 5 (Maheno & Wahba) between February 2020 and June 2021 due to increased dingo activity.

Wongari (Dingoes) of K'gari (Fraser Island): deceased register

Register of known deceased wongari (dingoes) between 01/10/2020 and 31/07/2022

Not all wongari deaths are reported or known, however where possible QPWS&P attempts to identify each deceased animal and determine a cause of death through necropsies by vets and qualified staff as well as observations made in the field.
